

Implement and monitor a game management plan

Overview

This standard outlines the competencies required by individuals who are responsible for implementing and monitoring a game management plan. It has been developed so that it can be applied to either a game bird production programme or a wild deer management plan. This standard is aimed at those who work as game managers and who are responsible for ensuring the effective implementation and monitoring the success of the game management plan. Game may include any species of game bird or wild deer.
